“Ask a New Question and You will Learn New Things.”

We at DPS Vapi ensure to encourage our students to engage them with their environment.

Subject-related activities are an initiative that allows them to actively work as individuals as well as in groups. The students of classes III to VI were involved in a lot of exuberant and engaging activities which will undoubtedly help them to be better and more responsible citizens.

The students of grades III to VI were deeply engrossed in subject-related activities like designing a book cover and giving a creative photographic dash to their favourite books by writing a book review. Students performed in an extemporaneous manner presenting their excellent speaking skills. Asking and framing questions were made easy by mixing a hue of excitement with them. Our students engaged themselves in a few more activities like creating beautiful wall hangings and allowing the students to exhibit their creativity. Students were also observed experimenting and having a hands-on learning experience. These learnings help our students cultivate patience, initiative-taking, and equipment-handling skills.

The experience and skills acquired through these activities will help our students be well-prepared for their future endeavors.
